A Community is a group of people living or working together in the same area, and who have common interests, likes and dislikes. People who are part of a community, usually live in the same neighbourhood, visit the same shops, and make use of the neighbourhood services.

COMMUNITY HELPERS AND THE WORK THEY DO

In a Community, there are many people who help us in one way or another. They are known as Community Helpers, and include teachers, nurses, plumbers, farmers, postal workers, street cleaners, doctors, firefighters, shopkeepers, dentists and police officers. These people play an important role in the community by providing people with valuable services.

Let us look at the many ways in which people help each other in a community, and the different kinds of work they do.

SPOTLIGHT

A Livelihood, An Occupation and a Hobby

The work people do to earn a Livelihood is called their Job, or their Occupation.

A Livelihood provides people with the money needed to buy the necessities of life, such as food, clothing and shelter. On the other hand, the things that people do for fun, or for relaxation, is called their Hobby. Some people sing, act, play or paint for their livelihoods. But some people do it as a hobby.
